

PRC-Required Integrated Resource Planning Meeting Notice
(ALBUQUERQUE, N.M.) – New Mexico Gas Co. (NMGC) is holding its Integrated Resource Planning (IRP) public advisory meeting in Santa Fe this week.

Prior to filing a formal Integrated Resource Plan with the New Mexico Public Regulation Commission in Spring 2016, NMGC is holding a public workshop-style meeting to provide the company with an opportunity to present its proposed plan and receive input from the public.

Through this process, NMGC provides information to the public on the following: load forecasting; evaluation of existing supply- and demand-side resources; assessment of need for additional resources; identification of resource options, including general attributes of additional resources and development of cost-effective portfolio of resources for the future.

IRP public meeting will be held:

- Hotel Santa Fe, 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
1501 Paseo de Peralta, Santa Fe, N.M. 87501
